

Find us at The Kenya Homes Expo, April 10th - 13th

Established in 2005, the aim was to create a forum where clients seeking professional services in the real estate industry could receive first hand information. Over time, it has grown to become the largest platform in both East and Central Africa.

With different themes each year, the event has seen exceptional growth in the number of exhibitors and sponsors. The bi-annual showcase has caught the attention of both local & international visitors and investors looking for unique opportunities.

This year's theme is 'Aiming Higher.' Out to set standards, the expo provides an opportunity for the different industry players to introduce and share their new products and services with the market.

What makes The Kenya Homes Expo stand out is that it offers a wide range of services, all on one platform. The exhibitors include real estate developers, agencies, financing institutions, insurance providers, property valuers, marketing and communication providers and building material suppliers among many other actors in the building and construction industry.

For those who are more in touch with turning any ordinary house into a dream home, different professionals will be on ground to offer guidance and tips. This includes showcases by interior designers, landscape architects and suppliers of different materials and items such as home and electrical appliances, security systems and eco-friendly suggestions for your home.

The organizers of the Homes Expo recently held a lovely breakfast meeting, bringing together all the exhibitors. Emphasis was put on the need to provide high quality services and ensuring customer satisfaction.

PGP Kenya looks forward to meeting and interacting with you at this year's Kenya Homes Expo, which will be at the Kenyatta International Conference Centre between the 10th and 13th of April.
